INDORSE ROCKEFELLER GIFT

Medical Society Recognizes Pre valence of Hookworm and Thanks Benefactor.

GREENSBORO, N. C., November 6.-The Controld County areas society, composed of 12s practicing physicians, at a largery attended meeting nere this afternoon gave the first official medical indorsement of the Rocketeller southern sanitation Commission by unanimously adopting the following resolutions addressed to the commission:

"Whereas the beneficent and philanthropic John D. Rocketeller has con-

"Whereas the benedicent and philanthropic John D. Rockefeller has contributed $1,400,000 for the study and eradication of the hookworm, which was actuated by the investigation of Dr. C. W. Sches, therefore, be it "Resolved, That the Guilford County Medical Society, realizing the great prevalence or this disease among our people, urgently requests the commission to establish its headquarters within our State, "Second, That this society hereby pledges its hearty co-operation to the work of the commission, and while regretting the infection of so large a proportion of our population with hookworm, yet we have from experience as practitioners to accept as a fact the conclusion of Dr. Stiles, and we hereby tender him the thanks of the medical profession for his great service to conclusion of Dr. Stiles, and we hereby tender him the thanks of the medical profession for his great service to humanity."

Dr. Stiles has been here twenty-four hours, and this afternoon delivered an address at a private meeting of the Guilford County Medical Society, at least 100 members being present. Since his arrival fifteen fully developed cases of hookworm have been reported to him by local physicians, and his address was filustrated with microscopic demonstration of the worm found in specimen contributions from suspected patients. In the present of the physicians was a twelve-year-old girl subject, pale, emaclated, stoop-shouldered, sad-eyed, whose appearance is duplicated by thousands in every farm and mill settlement. This child had a typical case of hookworm, and it was most affecting, after the meeting was over, to see Dr. Stiles as he sat beside the girl with his arms affectionately around her, answer the numerous questions prepounded by the physicians present.

In his address he declared that hookworm was the result, almost invertibly, of soil or water pollution physicians present.

In his address he declared that hookworm was the result, almost invariably, of soil or water pollution from open cesspools, and that removed from such environment a person affected would get well normally in tenyears. He gave the remedy for the disease, stating that it was most easy to cure, demonstrating this fact by actual tests under the microscope on the living parasite.

He said the youngest known case of hookworm was in a child of eight months, the youngest of his own personal knowledge being two years, the oldest person being seventy-two. Asked if snuff dipping and tobacco chewing cause the disease, he replied they were rather resultants of it, except in cases where parents taught their use from an idea that it prevented paleness, iron, he said in reply to another question, would cause a temporary betterment, but never a cure of hookworm.

Answering another question, he said instead of being confined to the so-called poorer classes, he had found in a large class of students in a certain college that 40 per cent. were plainly infected. The authorities hooted the possibility of such a thing, until by actual demonstration his visual diagnosis was verified by other physicians. Mrs. William Carey James, of Accidentally Kills Brother.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CAPE GHARLES, VA. November a.—Caivin Polliti, six-years old, shot and instantly killed his brother. Rosers, nine-years old, Thursday afternoon in a field near Loretto Station, on the New York, Philadelphia and Norfolk Railread.

The youngsters were returning from school and found a loaded gun, which had been left in a field by a farm hand. In a souffel for its possession it was accidentally discharged, the contents of one barrol entering Rosers' breast, killing him instantly.

The barrol of the gun was so close to the youths body at the time it exploded that his clothing was set after and life body was burned almost to a crigo. The young brother fainted from grief while he was endeavoring to carry the dead body of his brother to his home.

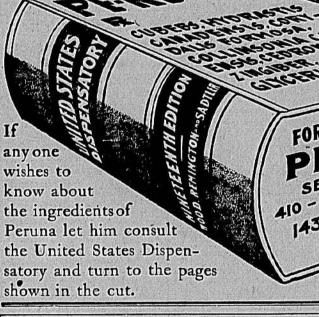

The boys were sons of Calvin Pollitt, a well known farmer, residing near the scene of the tragedy.

OXFORD WANTS BEST MEN FROM AMERICA

Secretary of Rhodes Scholarship Foundation Addresses Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools--Will Visit Richmond.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHARLOTTESVILLE. VA. November 6.—A distinguished visitor at the second day's session of the fifteenth annual meeting of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Southern States was Dr. G. R. Parkin, of Oxford, secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship Foundation.

Dr. Parkin addressed the association at 11 o'clock, and was given a hearty reception. He stated that he had made his first trip through the United States about six years ago, when he met most of the leading educational men and arranged the system by which the Rhodes scholar should be elected.

The Tarkin addressed the association at 11 o'clock, and was given a hearty reception. He stated that he had made his first trip through the United States about six years ago, when he met the monthemselves at Oxford has been that we are still not getting the best that America has (o give. this system, and would be glad to listen to suggestions from educators, "We have already had four sets of men from the United States," said Dr. Parkin, "and they have made an exceedingly good impression at Oxford and have done well. The criticism of the men themselves at Oxford has been at that America has to give. It is the most liberally endowed scholarship of any in the world, and therefore we have that America has to give. It is the most liberally expect to get the best."

"One of the difficulties we have met, said Dr. Parkin, "seems to be the outcome of something native to the political system of America—a tendency to pass a good thing around and so make everybody happy, without special reference to the relative menti of he candidates. What we want is for strongest man each State can gf. At Oxford the American study comes in touch with young Eng almen and and colonials who are in the countries within the axt seneration. It seems to me its riant that this country should send its best representatives to stand for American scholarship and ability in such a gintering. We now have about 200 men in Oxford, drawn from all corners of the Tinglish-speaking world, and of these about ninety are Americans.

The Kind of Men Wated.

"I am often asked," said Dr. Parkin, "what kind of men we like to have. I once told the head of san American university who asked me this question that if they would send us the man who in their judgment was most likely to be President of the Supreme States, chief justics of the Supreme.

land, we should be perfectly liappy. especially appeal to educational men to make this scholarship system as effective as possible. The millionaires of the world are asking us how to spend their money to the best advantage, and we are bound to justify the trust that they thus put in us. I do not hesitate to say that American scholarship and character are more closely judged in England to-day by the young men at Oxford, who represent every part of the Union, than by anything else. It is therefore to your own interest to make this representation as effective as possible.

The following papers were read at the morning session of the association:
"The Curriculum of the Public High School and the College Entrance Requirements," by Professor Bruce R. Payne, of the University of Virginia; "The Curriculum of the Unendowed Private School," by J. Carter Walker, headmaster of Woodberry Forest School, near Orange, Va.

Slow Digestion

Dyspessia Tablets.

This complaint constitute one of the most common forms of dyspepsia. It is the bane of those who ignore natural laws, and forget that the healthy action of the stomach is dependent on the condition of both body and mind. Those whose pursuits oblige them to pass much of their time within doors; men of letters, and of business, whose minds are seldom perfectly relaxed; administrators, speculators, financiers, and the various professional men fall ready victims to it.

Slow digestion occurs in persons of all temperaments and habits, but often-

There is also a deficiency of the gaztric juices, and an insufficiency of the Il Visit Richmond.

Now, after six years' experience, he is going over the country again to see if any improvement can be made in this system, and would be glad to listen to suggestions from educators, "We have already had four sate of the stomach."

Patriotism

The stemsch is a larger factor in "life, liberty and the purent of happiness" than most people are aware. Patriotism can withstand hunger but not dyspepsia. The confirmed dyspeptic "is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils." The man who goes to the front for his country with a weak stomach will be a weak soldier and a fault finder.

A sound stomach makes for good citizenship as well as for health and happiness.

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are promptly and permanently cured by the use of
